Dear Aspiring Pilots,

Welcome to Golden Epaulettes Aviation (GE), where dreams take flight and the sky is not the limit but just the beginning. When we started Golden Epaulettes Aviation, we were one among you, seeking guidance and mentorship. What we Observed was a complete lack of transparency & information available in the public domain about pilot training. Job opportunities were opaque, and every budding aviator struggled to even know where to get trained, where to apply for jobs, and how to prepare. The market was filled with misinformation and disinformation. That's where we decided that this should change. Every aspiring pilot has the right to complete transparency, honest mentorship, and the availability of resources to help them make correct decisions.

At GE, we are committed to providing quality training and upholding the highest standards of integrity. We believe in fostering a community where each of you, the future aviators, can thrive and excel. Our mission is to ensure that your journey to the cockpit remains as smooth and turbulence-free as possible.

Becoming a pilot is not just about learning to fly; it is about embracing a lifestyle of continuous learning, discipline, and unwavering commitment to safety and excellence. We're here to guide you through every step of this transformative journey. Our experienced instructors, state-of-the-art facilities, & comprehensive training programs are designed to equip you with skills and confidence needed to navigate the skies with precision. We understand that the path to becoming a pilot can be challenging, but it is also incredibly rewarding. Each lesson, each flight, and each challenge you overcome will bring you closer to achieving your dreams.

As a member of our tiny yet powerful community of aviators, you are part of something special. You are joining a lineage of individuals who have dared to dream & soar above the ordinary. We here to support you, to inspire you, and to ensure that your route to the cockpit is one of growth and accomplishment.

Aim high, stay focused, and let your passion for aviation propel you forward. The sky awaits, and with our dedication to quality training and highest integrity, you are destined to reach new heights.

Fly high and fly safe.

Dear Aspiring Pilots,

Welcome to Golden Epaulettes Aviation – not just an academy, but a dream built on pain, perseverance, and an unbreakable will.

Years ago, I was just another dreamer—lost, confused, and overwhelmed. I remember sitting alone with a pile of unanswered questions: Where do I start? Who will guide me? What if I fail? There were days when I felt invisible, helpless, and ready to give up. No one talks about the emotional toll—the sleepless nights, the missed family moments, the fear of the unknown. I lived it all.

But through every low phase, one thing kept me going—my love for flying. That dream, that vision of sitting in the cockpit, gave me the strength to rise again. I promised myself that one day, when I'm through this storm, I will become the lighthouse for others. And that's how Golden Epaulettes Aviation was born—not as a business, but as a promise.

A promise that no student would ever feel alone like I did. That no aspiring pilot would suffer in silence. At GE, we stand for transparency, honesty, and heart. Every lesson we teach, every piece of advice we give, comes from real experience, real pain, and real care.

This journey is not easy—I know that better than anyone. But it's worth every bit of it. The moment you take off for the first time, the moment you wear that uniform, all the struggle becomes a beautiful memory. And I want to be there, with my team, guiding you through every phase.

When you join GE, you're not just joining a training institute—you're joining my life's mission. You become a part of a family built on belief, sacrifice, and a shared love for aviation.

So if you're scared—it's okay. If you're lost—we'll help you find the way. And if you're dreaming—then you're already halfway there.

From my heart to yours—welcome aboard. Let's make your dream fly.

Fly high and never stop believing,

Warm regards,
Capt. Deval Soni
